

Contents

Dedication
Foreword	VII
Acknowledgements	IX
Introduction	1
Who is an Adult?	1
Visible Characteristics of Adults	3
Invisible Characteristics of Adults	4
I know Syndrome	5
Hypocrisy	8
Deep-Rooted Attitudes	12
Middle Age Crisis	12
What is Education?	13
Formal Education	15
Informal Education	16
Non-Formal Education	20
Adult Education	25
Training and Adult Training	26
Conventional Teaching and Adult Training	28
The Objectives and the Contents of the Book	35
Target Group	37
Chapter 01: Identification of Training Problems	39
What is training?	40
Why training is required?	40
What is a problem?	42
Complex Training Problems	51
The Role of the Trainer	55
What is Behavior?	58
Human Behavior Function	59
Relationship between Constants and Human Behavior	61
Trustworthiness of Post Training Evaluations	65
Four Types of Problem Identifications	85
Question, Problem and Crisis	86
Chapter 02: Selection of a Target Group for Training	89
Definition	89
Intricacy of Target Group Selection	89
Criterion for Selection of Target Groups	95

Chapter 03: Training Needs Assessment	99
Need for Training for an Organization	102
On What Values or Standards Does a Trainer Operate?	103
Organization, Employee and Training	105
Job Analysis for Training Needs Assessment	109
Trainee Analysis	111
Physical Characteristics	112
Educational Characteristics	112
Psychological or Emotional Characteristics	113
Socio Economic Characteristics	114
Training Needs Assessment in Different Standpoint	115
Training Results and Needs Assessment	117
Importance of Measuring Needs from the Perspective of the Trainees	118
Chapter 04: Formulation of Training Objectives	131
General Objectives of a Training Program	139
Specific Training Objectives	140
Specificity	144
Measurability	144
Inclusion of an Action Word	144
Quantitative Indication of the Behavioral Change	145
Conditions Relevant to Training	145
Time	145
Practicality or Relevance	145
Formulation of Objectives from the Trainee's Perspective	147
Advantages of Setting Specific Behavioral Training Objectives	154
Certain action words for formulation of specific behavioral objectives	154
Certain inappropriate words	155
Certain words for formulation of Skill-based behavioral objectives	155
Certain words for formulation of attitude-based behavioral objectives	155

Chapter 05: Preparation of Course Contents	159
Approaches to Formulate Course Contents	161
Conventional Approaches in Formulation of Course Contents	162
Subject Oriented Approach	162
Trainer Oriented Approach	162
Research Oriented Approach	164
Technology Oriented Approach	164
Participatory Approaches in Planning Course Contents	165
Needs Based Approach	165
Trainee Oriented Approach	165
Problem Oriented Approach	166
Job Oriented Approach	166
Criteria to be satisfied in Planning Course Contents	167
What is a Subject?	168
Primary Sources	170
Secondary Sources	170
Experiences of the Trainer	170
Simplicity of Subject Matters	171
Practicality of the Subject Matter	171
Subject Contents	172
Style of Speech and Training Objectives	176
Sequencing of Course Contents and Subject Matter	176
Methods of Sequencing	178
Module Building	181
Sequencing Subjects under Modules	181
Chapter 06: Training Methods and Media	187
Training Methods	190
Importance of the Selection of Training Methods	191
Factors to be considered in the Selection of Training Methods	193
Nature of the Training Objectives	193
Nature of the Trainees	194
Time Assigned for the Training	194
Resources and Facilities Allocated for Training	194

Different Training Methods	195
Behavior of People in Groups	198
Task Functionaries in Group Discussions	199
Initiating	200
Information Seeking	200
Opinion Seeking	201
Information Giving	202
Opinion Giving	203
Elaborating	203
Clarifying	204
Summarizing	205
Maintenance Functions	208
Encouraging	208
Expediting	209
Harmonizing	210
Developing Responsibility	213
Following	214
Self-oriented Functions	215
Aggressing	216
Blocking	217
Nitpicking	217
Dominating	218
Recognition Seeking	219
Monopolizing	220
Sympathy Seeking	221
Avoiding Involvements	221
Training Media	223
Five Senses and Learning	223
Memory Retention and Training Media	224
Importance of Selecting Appropriate Training Media	225
Training Aids and Media	228
Chapter 07: Presentation of Training Programs	233
Part I
Some Important Ground Rules in Training
Methodology	233
Five-fold Training Fundamentals	234
Perceived Purpose	234
Graduated Sequence	235

Individual Differentiation	235
Appropriate Practice	236
Knowledge of Results	236
Three-fold Training Phases (3 Ps)	237
Detailed Planning	237
Adequate Preparation	237
Lively Presentation	237
The Cycle of Training	238
Part II
Final Planning of a Training Program	240
Matters that Need the Consideration of the Trainer on the eve of the Presentation of the Training Program	240
Primary Data on Training Programs	242
Observing the Training Time Table	243
Time Limits for Training Sessions	244
Foundation of a Training Session	245
Trainers need to be Realistic	246
Separating the Trainees from Their Usual Environment	247
Handing Down Training Assignments	248
Marking Time	249
Lesson Plan	249
Link between Enthusiasm of the Trainees and Times of the Day	250
The Majority in a Training Session	251
Human Intelligence	252
Inclusion of Social Activities in Training Programs	253
Part III
Characteristics of a Good Trainer and Good training Practices	254
Arranging a Suitable Physical Environment	255
Preparing the Mindset of the Trainees	256
Giving Recognition	256
Freeing the Trainees from Bonds	257
Encouraging, Appreciating and Commending	257
Identification of Trainees	258

Openness to the Trainee	259
Confidentiality	260
Entering to the Subject Matters	261
Sequencing of Experiences	261
Use of Visual Media	262
Words and Training Results	262
Use of Words in a Training Session	262
Even a Teacher may Misspell	265
Rising up to the Occasion	265
Implementing New Techniques	266
Chapter 08: Monitoring and Evaluation of Training Programs	269
Monitoring a Training Program	273
Monitoring the physical Inputs of a Training Program	276
Evaluation of Training	277
Benefits of an Evaluation	278
Relationship between Evaluation and the Training Problem	279
Fourfold Training Evaluations	282
Impact Evaluation	282
Performance Evaluation	283
Learning Evaluation	285
Reaction Evaluation	287
Planning an Evaluation	291
Implementing an Evaluation	293
Pre-checking of the Evaluation Tools	293
Organizing the Resources, Manpower, Transport Facilities	294
Collection of Data and Information	294
Processing of Data	294
Analysis of Data	294
Preparation of Evaluation Reports and Recommendations	294
Annex 01: Methods of Training	301
Lectures	301
Learner Reaction Group Method	304
Buzz Sessions	307

Case Study	309
Committee Method	311
Conference	313
Convention	315
Debate	317
Demonstration	322
Discussion groups	324
Exercises	325
Exhibition Method	327
Movie or the Video Film	328
Forum	330
Brainstorming	332
Interviews	336
Listening Groups	338
Multi-media Package	340
Specialist Group Discussions	343
Peer Mediated Training	346
Role-play	349
Seminar	353
Dramatic Performance Method	355
Symposium	357
Workshop	358
Field Trips	360
Annex 02: Training Media	363
Multi-Senses Media	364
Models and Parables	367
Multi Media Projector	368
Blackboard	369
Whiteboard	371
Flip Chart System	373
Photograph	374
Poster	374
Cartoon	374
Tables, Graphs and Documents	375
Flannel Board	375
Overhead Projector	376
Slide Projector	377
Audio Media	377
Tape Recorders	378

	Audio-Visual Media	379
	Movie and the Video Film	379
Bibliography		381
Tables
	Table 08.01	Differences and Similarities between Monitoring and Evaluation 274
Figures
	Figure 00.01	Hypocrisy Triangle 11
	Figure 01.01	Stages in Identification of Training Problems 81
	Figure 01.02	Question, Problem and Crisis 86
	Figure 03.01	Necessity for Training 106
	Figure 03.02	Relationship between Organizational Goals and Training 108
	Figure 03.03	Job Analysis - Model 01 110
	Figure 03.04	Job Analysis - Model 02 111
	Figure 07.01	Training Cycle 239
	Figure 07.02	Enthusiasm of the Trainees 251
	Figure 07.03	Distribution of Trainees 252
	Figure 07.04	Distribution of Human Intelligence 253
	Figure 08.01	Monitoring and Feedback in Training 277
	Figure 08.02	Relationship between Training and Training Evaluations 290