

Contents

Acknowledgements	ix-xii
Introduction: Peripheral Visions	xiii-xxxv

Part I :

Culture and Society: Making Sense of the New Technologies 01

Acting Ethically, Responding Culturally: Framing the New Reproductive Technologies in Sri Lanka	03-20
--	-------

We Have Always Been Modern: Buddhism, Science and the New Genetic and Reproductive Technologies in Sri Lanka	21-44
---	-------

On Parrots and Thorns: Sri Lankan Perspectives on Genetics, Science and Personhood	45-55
---	-------

Ethics, Culture and Relativism: Some Reflections on Teaching Medical Ethics in Sri Lanka	56-76
---	-------

Capacity Building in Developing World Bio Ethics: Perspectives on Biomedicine and Biomedical Ethics in Contemporary Sri Lanka	77-90
---	-------

Part II :

Reproduction: Localising a Brave New World 91

Contemplating Choice: Attitudes Towards Intervening in Human Reproduction in Sri Lanka	93-114
---	--------

Legacies and Linkages: Episodes in the Establishment of New Reproductive Technologies in Contemporary Sri Lanka	115-132
--	---------

Gays, Paternity and Polyandry: Making Sense of New Family Forms in Contemporary Sri Lanka	133-146
--	---------

Negotiating the Therapeutic Gap: Prenatal Diagnostics and Termination in Sri Lanka	147-157
---	---------

IVF in Sri Lanka: A Concise History of Regulatory Impasse	158-173
Part III:
Giving a Part of Oneself	175
Impossible Gifts: Bodies, Buddhism and Bioethics in Contemporary Sri Lanka	177-203
Rhetorics of Blood: Donor Campaigns and Their Publics in Contemporary Sri Lanka	204-225
Local Virtue and Global Vision: The Practice of Eye Donation in Contemporary Sri Lanka	226-247
Managing the Pious Cadaver: Whole Body Donation and Anatomy in Sri Lanka	248-263
References	264-289