

CONTENTS

Notes on Contributors	i
Preface	iii
Introduction
Democratisation in South Asia: Theory, Experience, and Issues Kristine A Herrmann and John M Richardson Jr.	1
Part I. Definitions and Hypotheses
1. On Democratisation: What is it? How is it Encouraged? How is its Progress Measured? Kenneth Kusterer	27
2. The International Dimension of Democratisation: Three Perspectives Laurence Whitehead	43
Part II. The South Asian Experience
3. The Indian State and Democracy: Contradictions and Consequences S N Jha	63
4. Pakistan: Electoral Politics and Democracy Mohammad Waseem	97
5. Bangladesh: Democratisation in Crisis Abdul Momin Chowdhury and Chandra Barman	125
6. Sri Lanka: Electoral Politics and the Resilience of Democracy K M de Silva	163
7. The Process of Democratisation in Nepal: Problems and Prospects Lok Raj Baral	187
8. Bhutan: Ethnicity, Democracy and Nation-Building Partha S Ghosh	213

Part III. Unresolved Issues

9. "Hanging in" at the Margin: Political Participation,
Democracy and Women in South Asia
Vidyamali Samarasinghe 239
10. Human Rights and the Neo Liberal Raj
Stig Toft Madsen 265
11. Democratisation or Economic Liberalisation:
The 'Catalyst' in South Asian Regional Co-operation
Ravinatha Arjasinha 289
- Conclusion
- Democratisation in South Asia: Lessons and Prospects
John M Richardson Jr. and Kristine A Herrmann 305
- Index 345