

CONTENTS

Preface	15
1. Chapter 1
Beginnings of Discord: The Arunachalam Saga
1.1 Champion of Labour:	21
1.2 Challenges and Vision	23
1.3 The Political Challenge	26
1.4 Arunachalam and Labour	31
1.5 The Fiasco of the Delegation to London and the Silent Coup in the CNC	34
1.6 The Crowning of a Makeshift Leader	39
1.7 The Tamil MahajanaSabhai and Arunachalam's Clarification	44
1.8 Labour Ordinance: Amendment of Law relating to Indian Labour	51
1.9 A Blind Attack on Arunachalam	54
1.10 Arunachalam's Consistency	58
1.11 Arunachalam's Last Days	61
1.12 Second Thoughts in the Ceylon National Congress, but alas Pointless and too Late	68
2. Chapter 2
Villeins rather than Slaves: How Indian Immigrant Labour was Short-changed
2.1 A Gem of English Law	72
2.2 Mansfield and the Legal Regime in the Colonies	77
2.3 Undertakings and Ceylon's Suicide as a Nation under the Law	81
2.4 Indian Labour: Myth of seasonality	85

2.5	Singled out among a Nation of Immigrants	88
2.6	The Walkout as preparation for a Game of Truant	90
2.7	Sarojini Naidu's Charm Offensive	93
2.8	Ceylon Legislative Council: Amendment of Law relating to Indian Labourers	95
2.9	Sastri and Indian Liberals in the struggle for rights of Migrant Labour	101
2.10	1924 – 1928: Immigrant Labour in Manning's Second Constitution	105
2.11	Natesa Iyer, I.X. Pereira and Sivanandan on Goonesinha	110
2.12	Towards an Oligarchy of Planter-Politicians	112
3.	Chapter 3
	The Donoughmore Debate and the Death of an Emergent Nation
3.1	The Donoughmore Constitution and the Status of Indian Labour	116
3.2	Franchise in the Report of the Donoughmore Commission	118
3.3	8 th – 15 th November 1928: The Donoughmore Debate, a blow to United Ceylon	122
3.4	The Donoughmore Bill Passes – 12 th December 1929, Uncertainties Persist	144
3.5	The Position of Plantation Tamils in 1929	149
3.6	Governor Stanley's Legacy	154
3.7	Ceylon Tamils and the miscarried Quest for National Unity	156
4.	Chapter 4
	The 1930s: Down the Slippery Slope
4.1	Privileging the 'First Inhabitants': Ideology as Law	169
4.2	The LDO and Plantation Tamils: A Case of Double Jeopardy	172
4.3	A Note on the Formation of the Left	178
4.4	The Moral and Political Dilemmas of an Indian Labour-centred Economy	180
4.5	The Jackson Report	189

4.6	The Influenza Epidemic of 1918-1919 and the Third Generation Fudge	195
4.7	Blaming Indian Labour for Landlessness	198
4.8	Electoral Registration: A State of Confusion and Conspiracy	199
4.9	Tilting at Windmills: The Fake War on Indian Minor Employees	203
5.	Chapter 5 The 1940 Mooloya Estate Strike to Farcical Talks in Delhi
5.1	Mooloya: A Turning Point in Worker Activism	214
5.2	Bandaranaike's Second Attempt at Cleansing the Electoral Rolls	219
5.3	Non-Ceylonese Voters: Bandaranaike's battle of Bannockburn	223
5.3.1	The Indian Deluge that was not	223
5.3.2	Domicile: Admission or Exclusion?	228
5.3.3	D.S. Senanayake	232
5.3.4	George E. de Silva and B.H. Aluwihare	234
5.4	Bandaranaike lost the Debate and won the Motion – but at what Cost?	240
5.5	Tampering with Electoral Rolls as means to Arm-Twist Strategic Minorities	242
5.6	Fudging the Deadlock with India	247
5.7	George Lets the Proverbial Cat out of the Bag	250
5.8	Ceylon's Freedom Fighters in Delhi for Talks	252
5.9	Talks with the Indian Government: A predictable Farce?	255
5.10	Ceylon's Racialisation of Public Values	258
6.	Chapter 6 Legislative Obscurantism: Shades of Jim Crow and Nuremberg 1935
6.1	After the Fiasco of Talks in India	261
6.2	1930s Preoccupation with Race: to Corner and Exclude the Alien	268
6.3	Ceylon A Tradition of Ambivalence	274
6.4	Antecedents of the British Betrayal	276

6.5	Aluwihare on the adjournment motion (abridged from the Hansard)	281
6.6	Debate on the Immigration and Registration Bills: 4 th to 27 th March 1941	283
6.7	Jayah warns of the Bill as a pointer to worsening Communal Strife	292
6.8	More theatrics by Bandaranaike to score over Senanayake	296
6.10	15 th May 1941: Revelations from the Motion demanding the release of LSSP Detenus	297
6.11	India to the Rescue	303
6.12	Future Leaders of Lanka	305
7.	Chapter 7 Independence on a Constitution Tailormade for Exclusion of Minorities
7.1	The Ministers' Draft: Precursor to the Soulbury Constitution	309
7.2	A Northern Irish Precedent and the Crucial Omission	316
7.3	Equality in English and Roman-Dutch Legal Traditions	321
7.4	The Privy Council: Ambivalent dismissal couched in Tendentious Sociology	323
7.5	Entrenched Rights: Casting our Roman-Dutch Jurisprudence like Pearls Before Swine	328
7.6	Principle of Legality and the Minahan case	333
7.7	Tensions between Common law and Statute law	338
7.8	Peace, Order and Good Government	341
7.9	Ceylon Courts take note of the Harris cases	346
8.	Chapter 8 Independence and the Unions: Ridding the Foreign Yoke while Consolidating Instruments of Repression
8.1	Extending Colonial Repression to Undermine Working Class Solidarity	351

8.2	Vote for conditional Release of LSSP Detainees, Oppressive Regulations Remain	352
8.3	A Superannuated Council Adopts the Soulbury Constitution – 8 th , 9 th November 1945	358
8.4	Britain's Parting Gift and the Strangulation of Ceylon's Fledgling Democracy	368
8.5	An Unelected Government and the Strikes of 1946 and 1947	371
8.6	The Trade Unions Bill: Jayah's Presentation and Ilangaratne's Response	376
8.7	Jayewardene and Keuneman	381
8.8	Ponnambalam and N.M. Perera	384
8.9	In the Senate: Naganathan and Nadesan	390
8.10	Significance of the Government's Victory	392
8.11	Sterling Balances: Honour and the Tamil Representatives	395
9.	Chapter 9 PSO's Repression in 'Good Faith', Tamil Uncertainties and Mahatma Gandhi's Intervention
9.1	The PSO and Misinterpreted British Precedents	398
9.2	The PSO	400
9.3	PSO Challenged in Parliament: 'Precaution is better than Cure'	404
9.4	The weak resistance of the Left	409
9.5	Jennings, the British Emergency Powers Act and the PSO	411
9.6	Towards the Citizenship Act	415
9.7	The Citizenship Question: Mahatma Gandhi's Final Plea	415
9.8	Ponnambalam manoeuvres to ditch the Plantation Tamils for Ministerial Office	420
9.9	20 th June 1948: The discussion continues & Suthanthiran on Plantation Tamils	421
9.10	Education in Estate Schools Chelvanayakam, belatedly signals independent stand	423
9.11	19 th August, the Morning of the Ill-fated Bill	426
9.12	A Note on Tea and the Economy	429

10.	Chapter 10
	Citizenship: The Political Imperative to Shackle the Judiciary
10.1	The Turning-Point: Case in the Supreme Court	432
10.2	Certified Descent as Forerunner of Race in Politics	437
10.3	Ceylon Act: Invalid because Absurd and Impossible	440
10.4	Brief Triumph in the Kegalle District Court, 2 nd July 1951	443
10.5	Supreme Court's hearing of the Citizenship and Franchise Acts	445
10.6	Dilemmas of English Justice: Law v. Empire	448
10.7	Salomon's case: The danger of mixing Corporate Ethics with Human Rights	450
10.8	The neglected Article 91	454
10.9	The Wider Issues at Stake	456
10.10	Relevance of Guinn & Beal vs. US	459
10.11	The Roman-Dutch law standpoint	465
10.12	Kulasingham vs. Thambiayah: Supreme Court clears the way for Disenfranchisement	467
10.13	Taming the Judiciary: Undermining Separation of Powers	472
11.	Chapter 11
	Citizenship Act: When Political Overshadows the Moral
11.1	On the Climactic Bill: An Unreasoning Government Spews Abuse, Tamils Abscond	480
11.2	Left Leaders	485
11.3	British Nationality Act, Dual Citizenship: A Fait Accompli against India	486
11.4	Highlights of the Debate on the Citizenship Bill	489
11.5	'Harmonisation of Racialism and Nationalism': Bandaranaike's Intellectual Misadventure	498
11.6	Some Nuances of Voting on the Citizenship Bill	503
11.7	K.V. Nadarajah & Committee: A tangle of Contradictions and the Cut-off	507
11.8	21 st August 1948, 'Triumphal' Public Meeting in Jaffna and After	510

11.9	Ponnambalam's Reward and Reactions	515
11.10	Reactions in the Senate	517
11.11	Nadesan's Warning: The Senate 15 th September 1948	521
12.	Chapter 12
	A Glimmer of Dissent in the Courts, Abandonment of Fundamental Principles & Journey to a 'State of Nature'
12.1	A Constitution for Mutation sans Fundamental Principles	526
12.2	The three final Citizenship Acts (see Appendix 2 for voting details)	529
12.3	When Supreme Court Resisted and Nationalists went to the Privy Council to check it	536
12.4	Resurfacing of Fundamental Principles – The Official Language ('Sinhala Only') Act and its legal aftermath	546
12.5	The Abortive coup of January 27 th 1962 and the March of Judicial Timidity	553
12.6	LSSP and CP join the Right in Funeral Rites for Liberties in Article 29	563
12.7	The Judiciary: Sacrifice of its exemplary role for a shambles	565
13	Chapter 13
	When Law ceases to be about Justice: The Entrenchment of Communalism
13.1	Language and the Transformation in the early 1950s and 1956	568
13.2	Bandaranaike: Communal Violence and Surrender to the Right	574
13.3	The Right strikes back	578
13.4	Assassination and the Elephant in the room	583
13.5	From Bracegirdle to Citizenship and Bandaranaike cases: Denudation of the Law's Protective Function	591
13.6	Desertion of the Left: Ridding the Country of some Outcastes – the Scum	600
13.7	Sirimavo-Shastri Pact: 'Numerical Approach' to the Discarding of Human Rights	603
13.8	A Statistical Note on Demography of Plantation Tamils	607

Postscript

The 1972 Constitution and the Autocratic State

P1	The parliamentary Left's Desertion and the Upsurge of Communalism in the latter 1960s	611
P2	The 1972 Constitution	614
P3	Jayewardene throws open the Pandora's Box of the 1972 Constitution	620
P4	The July 1980 General Strike: Closing the door on Plantation Tamils and the Left	622
P5	The Fragmentation of Society	625
P6	The Citizenship Act as an Obstacle to Modernisation – the Normalisation of Discrimination	627
P7	Tamil Auto-genocide	630
P8	An Exceptional Voice from the Left	632
P9	What went wrong with us?	635
P10	Common Law or Revolution?	639

Appendix 1

	Nehru – Senanayake Exchange of letters ¹	649
--	---	-----

Appendix 2

	Voting on the Citizenship Bill of 1948 to the Sinhala Only Bill of 1956	659
--	---	-----

Appendix 3

	The Ceylon (Parliamentary Elections) Order in Council 1946	668
--	--	-----

Appendix 4

	Citizenship Act: Highlights	671
--	-----------------------------	-----

Appendix 5

	Extract: Franchise Judgment, Kegalle District Court, July 2, 1951	673
--	---	-----

Appendix 6

	Vignettes of Peace and Good Government: 1801 - 1986	675
--	---	-----

1 Nehru's letters are taken from Selected Works of Jawaharlal Nehru, Second Series Vols.6 & 7, S. Gopal Ed., Jawaharlal Nehru Memorial Fund and Oxford University Press, New Delhi, 1972. Senanayake's letters could be found in Ceylon: Sessional Paper XXII, 1948, Government Press, Colombo.

Appendix 7
Australian Dried Fruit Case (1930) and Banking Case (1949)	686
Appendix 8
Sastri and Bajpai: Diplomatic offensive in the Dominions	691
Appendix 9
Race and the Supreme Court in South Africa: Rearguard measures in the losing battle for Equality	698
Bibliography	707
Index	720

11 OCT 2023