

Contents

| | |
|--|-----------|
| Preface | v |
| 1 The Debate About Children's Voices | 1 |
| 1.1 The Protective Approach to Children | 2 |
| 1.2 Views on the Capacities of Children | 3 |
| 1.3 Children as Participants | 4 |
| 1.3.1 Understanding children as social actors | 7 |
| 1.3.2 Understanding children as citizens | 9 |
| 1.4 The Pitfalls of Listening to Children | 13 |
| 1.4.1 Children may be placed in the middle of their parents' conflicts | 14 |
| 1.4.2 The risk of undue influence | 15 |
| 1.4.3 Children may be given the decision-making authority that the parents need to exercise | 15 |
| 1.4.4 Children's voices may provide an excuse for adults to avoid hard decisions | 16 |
| 1.4.5 The risk that children's voices will be used to facilitate irresponsible adult decisions | 17 |
| 1.5 Different Levels and Forms of Participation | 19 |
| 1.6 The Purpose of this Book | 21 |
| 2 The Research | 23 |
| 2.1 The Importance of Multiple Perspectives | 24 |
| 2.1.1 The importance of children's and parents' views | 27 |
| 2.1.2 The importance of professionals' views: judges, lawyers and welfare professionals | 28 |
| 2.2 Research Method | 29 |
| 2.2.1 The participants and the interviews | 30 |
| 2.3 Practical and Ethical Issues in Research with Children | 33 |
| 2.3.1 Consent for children's participation | 34 |
| 2.3.2 Confidentiality and privacy of children's responses | 36 |
| 2.3.3 Format of interviews with children | 37 |
| 3 The Different Ways of Hearing the Voice of the Child | 39 |
| 3.1 Legislative Principles for Participation | 41 |
| 3.2 Child-inclusive Mediation | 43 |
| 3.3 Family Reports | 47 |
| 3.4 Child Representatives | 49 |

| | |
|---|-----------|
| 3.5 Children as Parties to Proceedings | 53 |
| 3.6 Judicial Interviewing | 55 |
| 3.7 Evidence from Children | 59 |
| 3.8 The Filtering of Children's Voices | 60 |
| 4 Children's and Parents' Views of Children's Participation | 62 |
| 4.1 Preconditions for Children's Participation | 63 |
| 4.2 Children's Views | 64 |
| 4.2.1 Children's reasons for wanting to have a say | 67 |
| 4.2.2 Children's reasons for not wanting to have a say | 68 |
| 4.2.3 Children's actual and perceived involvement | 70 |
| 4.2.4 How much say did children want? | 73 |
| 4.2.5 Having a say and the fairness of the arrangements | 75 |
| 4.3 Parents' Views | 77 |
| 4.3.1 Should children have a say? | 77 |
| 4.3.2 Age, maturity and parental influence | 80 |
| 4.3.3 Parents' views on the benefits of children having a say | 85 |
| 4.4 Children's and Parents' Views Compared | 87 |
| 4.4.1 Similarities and differences in children's and parents' views | 87 |
| 4.4.2 Differences between those who had experienced contested proceedings and those who had not | 88 |
| 4.5 Voice and Choice in Children's Participation | 89 |
| 5 Professional Views of Children's Participation | 91 |
| 5.1 The Importance of Professional Perspectives | 91 |
| 5.2 Family Lawyers | 92 |
| 5.2.1 Age, maturity and parental influence | 93 |
| 5.2.2 Workability and children's happiness | 97 |
| 5.2.3 Protection from participation | 100 |
| 5.2.4 Children as decision-makers | 103 |
| 5.2.5 Children's participation as about choices between adult positions | 104 |
| 5.2.6 Changing the system | 105 |
| 5.3 Mediators and Counsellors | 106 |
| 5.3.1 Enlightenment | 107 |
| 5.3.2 Empowerment | 108 |
| 5.3.3 The involvement of children in mediation | 108 |
| 5.3.4 Workability | 109 |
| 5.3.5 Therapeutic benefits | 110 |
| 5.3.6 Concerns about pressure and manipulation | 110 |
| 5.3.7 Age, maturity and self-determination | 112 |
| 5.3.8 The risks of involving children in the litigation process | 114 |

| | | |
|----------|--|------------|
| 5.4 | Judges | 115 |
| 5.4.1 | Children's voices in the context of all the evidence | 116 |
| 5.4.2 | Evaluating children's wishes | 118 |
| 5.5 | Lawyers v Welfare Professionals on Children's Participation | 119 |
| 5.6 | Participation, Decision-making and Parental Influence | 120 |
| 6 | Children's Involvement in The Litigation Process | 123 |
| 6.1 | The Voice of the Child in Family Reports | 123 |
| 6.1.1 | Entering the child's world | 124 |
| 6.1.2 | Assessing the child's views | 125 |
| 6.1.3 | Family reports and children's secrets | 128 |
| 6.1.4 | Following up on outcomes | 131 |
| 6.2 | The Role of Child Representatives | 132 |
| 6.2.1 | Meeting with the child | 133 |
| 6.2.2 | Ascertaining the views of the child | 134 |
| 6.2.3 | Representing the child | 136 |
| 6.2.4 | Respecting confidentiality | 137 |
| 6.2.5 | Advising the child | 138 |
| 6.3 | Counsellors, Lawyers and the Interpretation of Children's Voices | 139 |
| 6.4 | Parents' Views | 141 |
| 6.4.1 | What did parents think of the family report process? | 141 |
| 6.4.2 | What did parents think of the children's lawyers? | 145 |
| 6.5 | Children's Views | 148 |
| 6.5.1 | What did children think of the family report process? | 149 |
| 6.5.2 | What did children think of their legal representative? | 152 |
| 6.6 | Filtering, Confidentiality and Feedback Mechanisms | 154 |
| 7 | Judicial Conversations With Children | 158 |
| 7.1 | The Views of the Children | 158 |
| 7.1.1 | Who would be the best person to talk with? | 159 |
| 7.1.2 | Specific questions on talking with judges in chambers | 160 |
| 7.1.3 | Children's reasons for wanting to talk with the judge | 160 |
| 7.1.4 | Children's reasons for not wanting to talk with the judge | 163 |
| 7.2 | Parents' Views | 164 |
| 7.2.1 | Parents' reasons for favouring judges talking with children | 165 |
| 7.2.2 | Parents' reasons for not favouring judges talking with children | 167 |
| 7.2.3 | The preferred process | 168 |
| 7.3 | Professionals in the Family Law System | 169 |
| 7.3.1 | Areas of agreement | 170 |
| 7.3.2 | Objections to judicial conversations with children | 171 |

| | | |
|----------|---|------------|
| 7.3.3 | Judges' experiences of talking with children in parenting disputes | 177 |
| 7.3.4 | The benefits of talking with children in chambers | 179 |
| 7.4 | Truth, Justice and Due Process | 185 |
| 8 | Towards a More Responsive Legal System | 189 |
| 8.1 | The Consensus on Children's Participation | 189 |
| 8.2 | The Benefits and Risks of Children's Participation | 190 |
| 8.2.1 | Why listen to children? | 190 |
| 8.2.2 | The risks of listening to children | 194 |
| 8.2.3 | Paradoxes in views of children's participation | 196 |
| 8.3 | Improving Children's Participation | 197 |
| 8.3.1 | Distinguish between voice and choice | 198 |
| 8.3.2 | Redefine the significance of age and maturity | 200 |
| 8.3.3 | Explore children's perspectives, not their 'wishes' | 202 |
| 8.3.4 | Distinguish between different kinds of decisions on which children's views may be invited | 205 |
| 8.3.5 | Follow certain guidelines about judicial interviews | 210 |
| 8.3.6 | Consider children's views with the aid of social-science expertise | 215 |
| 8.3.7 | Move beyond the focus on hearing children in trials | 216 |
| 8.4 | Conclusion | 219 |
| | References | 220 |
| | Index | 237 |